

HERE COMES THE SUN

My Blog this week is inspired by the Beatles song “Here Comes the Sun” and is dedicated to all the Hopefuls who take a positive outlook towards life. In challenging times one has the option to go under or fight and swim upstream.

*Little darling, it's been a long cold lonely winter
Little darling, it feels like years since it's been here*

The title of the Song is prolific as it speaks to the Sun which represents warmth and light and in some religious cultures represent re-birth. How timely in a world of chaos where some silently pray for a rebirth of simplicity and warmth towards each other.

The symbolism of the Sun also represents LIFE; POWER; STRENGTH; CLARITY and SELF, all very positive attitudes for “the man on a mission”.

The Sun is a life force for energy which man is turning to more vigorously each day to maintain our very being and existence. The sun sheds light to brighten the paths to show us the way to a better alternative/option. This bright star inspires hope and for the introspective draws strength to seek clarity.

On reflection the sun always played an important part of my life set apart from being born in the tropics. My room as a child was painted bright yellow which represents sunshine, energy and cheerfulness. Those close to me will agree that this is synonymous to my disposition as I have been often told that I am the energizer bunny, which sometimes make people spin. This theme of the Sun seems to have followed me throughout life as the symbol of my company Fitz Ritson and Associates is a hand holding a torch which represents for me lighting the world with literacy. Literacy seeks clarity to strengthen one's self to sustain one's life.

*Little darling, the smiles returning to the faces
Little darling, it seems like years since it's been here*

So to all the Hopefuls who seek that glimmer of hope – fight your way towards the Sun, its warm rays will energize you and force you to seek clarity and lead you to your natural destiny.

*Little darling, I feel that ice is slowly melting
Little darling, it seems like years since it's been clear*

So to all the Hopefuls don't give up! Pursue your dreams and have a positive outlook, make that difference as you in some way can change the course of mankind and history. So take comfort from the Beatles when they say;

*Here comes the sun, here comes the sun
It's all right, it's all right*
